Last Hash of June and what a beautiful hash it was in the sunshine set by Gannet and Scrottie (soon to be renamed Golden Bollocks due to summer sun shining through his legs whilst he stood aloft the information plaque whilst dazzling us with his errmmmm...?). We all set off in a similar direction anticipating a long climb to the top of Cox Tor. all 442m of it (that's 1450ft for all of you non-metric sort). Instead we all headed off to check out the backside(s) of Cox Tor. Back at the bucket we were praised by Hurricane for arriving in an orderly fashion which made the checking in much easier for him. I thought Gannet would have been checking us back in, but Gannet wanted to make sure she got her food order in and headed off to the pub at break neck speed. Poor Chopper was left stranded for what seemed like hours whilst Gannet finished her 9 course meal pretending to be oblivious to the fact she had hidden his keys in the foot-well of her car!!! (Chopper, what did you do to upset Gannet?).

Back at the Whitchurch, Can't Remember (should be called "Can't Forget") presented Wun Hung Lo a golden shoe. Our past Grand Master has been carrying the shoe around for well over a year hoping to get the chance to snog Hung Wun Lo and wasn't about to let him off the hook! Three virgins were presented with a Pirate's hat aaaarrrrrrhhhhhhh. Whilst Racey was holding Ernie's salty nuts (apparently they could fit in just one hand) he was presented with the Plank of the week for taking Euros to Northern Cyprus! Did you know that the EU recently announced that all future euro notes would be printed on Greece-proof paper? Finally it was announced that we would be hashing in the same place next week at the Warren House Inn. Now my sense of direction isn't always great but I think we were at Cox Tor tonight and google earth tells me the Warren House Inn is in the middle of Dartmoor!!.
