Spike led the hash from Plymbridge Car Park on an excellent course much enjoyed by all comers. Why? This was a Spike hash after all? It was not because of Spikes haring excellence, more to do with the carpets of bluebells which covered most of the ground.

Five things you may not know about bluebells:

- 1. The bluebell has many names: English bluebell, wild hyacinth, wood bell, bell bottle, Cuckoo's Boots, Wood Hyacinth, Lady's Nightcap and Witches' Thimbles, *Hyacinthoides non-scripta
- 2. It is against the law to intentionally pick, uproot or destroy bluebells

3. If you plant bluebells, you should make sure it's the English bluebell, not the Spanish version. This is a more vigorous plant and could out-compete our delicate native flower.
4. Almost half the world's bluebells are found in the UK, they're relatively rare in the rest of the world
5. Bluebell colonies take a long time to establish – around 5-7 years from seed to flowers.

Back to hashing – most hashers were relieved that the course was slightly short compared to last weeks VERY I—o—n---g hash. On the drive to the pub Slush was amused when both Fergie and Nipple Deep followed him into Aldi carpark. At the pub Scrotey was heard telling Buffy that she needs more exercise. Plus Hot Rocks awarded 'Tart of the week' to Lost who got to wear the space boppers because of complaining about the massive hill climb between the start and On Down:

No 'upcoming events' – C'mon committee – organise some more entertainment please!
