Next Run No: 1674

Date: 27th August 2012

Start: Car park at entrance to Willsworthy Ranges SX518825

On Down: Mary Tavy Inn

Hares: Winge and Luscious

Much Merriment at Merrivale – K2 reporting

There was some confusion over the start of the run. We turned into the first car park that we came to, but should have known better as Lost was parked there, deliberately leading everyone astray! No hares in sight so after a while we tried the next, bigger one. Still no hares but Luffly decided we should check people in and start from there.

7.28pm – still no hares!

7.29pm -Hornblower appeared, with excuses of flour being eaten and washed away. The other hare, Penny Farting, gone awol.

Luscious and I watched the run from Staple Tor, seeing and hearing the hash weaving around in the valley below us. However we were caught out when hashers suddenly appeared on the tor beside us and then went thundering back down to the car park. You see, I had Luffly's car key in my pocket, inside of which were the check-in list, the car keys and the beer! And I can't run now.

Gossip and Observations:

- Why did Grandpa come, stand and watch the run, and then not come to the pub?
- Newish hasher Naomi has a well-trained husband, who cooks her supper while she runs. (Men please note)
- Buffy asked Hot Rocks if she deserved chips?? Poor girl, of course she deserves chips!
- Brat pack out in force again tonight. (Alice, Rachel, Charlotte, Marcus, Joe, Sam to name a few.)
- Hornblower brought one bag of flour for laying the run. Surprisingly he needed more!!
- "Soup for Mush" called the landlord. Slush claimed it!

- Our own 'Mo' now has the nickname 'On all Fours', apparently due to his falling over and comments about dogs.
- No birthdays this week – but loads next week, so watch out!
